A NOTE FROM FATHER MIKE

What do we do with the gifts that God has given to us? Do we even recognize them? Sometimes we do, sometimes we do not. In baptism we are called to participate in the mission of Christ, to proclaim the Good News of God's love for us to the world. This requires us to use the gifts that God has given us to help others experience God's love and to build up his kingdom. Like two of the servants in the Gospel we sometime do this very well. Other times, like the third servant, we are too afraid to do anything.

In Christ we have nothing to fear except not responding to his invitation to love God and love our neighbor, using our gifts to bring about His Kingdom. This is how we prepare for his coming, by living in His light, the light we received at baptism, and allowing that light to guide our thoughts, words and actions. May we all respond with generosity of mind and heart to His love and his call, and so come to a greater experience of His wonder filled presence in our lives.

Peace, Fr. Mike

The trees will be affixed with a plaque containing the names to be memorialized and honored. The cost to reserve a tree is $200. A Message from Faith Formation Pastoral Associate: John McGuire

Give thanks to the Lord for he is God, His Love is Everlasting. Psalm 136

As we prepare this week for Thanksgiving, I feel inclined to provide you with a deep theological dive into the meaning of the word Eucharist, spoiler alert, it means giving thanks. The sacrament of Holy Communion (Eucharist) is the evolution of the shared meal of Judaism. There was a blessing for the bread, and a blessing for the wine. Part of that blessing was giving thanks to God for those elements, and Jesus quite literally Christened that practice at the Last Supper. That isn't what I'm going to focus on today! You're welcome! We as Catholics, or Christians in general, often feel that our faith is imposed upon by modern society. Morality involves in ways that can benefit people, but often sacrifices the dignity of those taking the actions. It can feel dire at times. Yet we can have some cause for hope, even in a culture antithetical or our faith because there are in fact breadcrumbs of hope.

One such breadcrumb, or perhaps dressing of hope is the national feast of Thanksgiving. While this day too has its imperfections (black friday sales, low waged workers forced to be away from their families, and questions about the treatment of indigenous populations). In practice this day finds families of diverse backgrounds, ideologies, and faiths, gathering together around a meal, and giving thanks. It is the closest thing to a secular Eucharist that we have. So, this week, while gathering with family, even those who sometimes irk us with their political hottakes, questioning about how many kids we do or do not have yet, and who makes a better pie: just remember that disciples are called to love unconditionally, and our ability to do so comes directly from Christ and His Body the Eucharist! I pray for you and your families, God Bless and have a wonderful week!

Save the Dates! Summer Academy will run from June 23 until July 2!

We end before the 4th of July because of a new feature for our program!
 The two Sundays of Summer Academy will be a time for Students and families to gather!
 Instruction time for the children and young people, and special programming for the parents!
 Can't wait to see you there!
